

Reflective surfaces can be used to transform the look of a space. In an alternate finish this bespoke monolithic extractor would block the light, however, in this kitchen from Laurence Pidgeon it has been clad in mirror glass that reflects the room and the light – making it almost disappear. Kitchens from £20,000. laurencepidgeon.com