

Kinetic elements are the perfect companions to compact kitchens where space is essential. The stainless steel Slim Collection kitchen, designed by Elmar and available from Laurence Pidgeon, has been specifically designed for smaller spaces. The floor-to-ceiling cabinets offer storage and conceal appliances behind sliding doors, while the island supports the space-saving Wing Table. The fold-up table, shown here in Smoked Acacia veneer, sits flush at the side of the island when collapsed, but opens out as a practical casual dining area or additional preparation surface when needed. Kitchen from £20,000. laurencepidgeon.com

UTOPIA
LOVES

